Port agency seeks relief from marina involvement

BY RICH ADAMS

The Hancock County Port and Harbor Commission, embroiled in controversy for the past few weeks over operation of the Bayou Cadet Marina, has asked to be relieved of its authority over the area.

"The Port and Harbor Commission is deeply involved in the development of the industrial parks at Port Bienville and Stennis Field," Commissioner Dave McDonald said Friday, "and it is the opinion of the Commission that a committee should be formed of commercial and sport fishing interests to operate the marina."

McDonald, who heads a commission subcommittee on Bayou Cadet, said the commission feels the large number of operational and administrative problems at the marina could be better handled by such a committee.

Wilson Webre, commission executive director, told the Hancock County Board of Supervisors Monday the commission would like to turn back to the supervisors all responsibility for the Bayou Cadet area.

He suggested the supervisors could perhaps lease the facility directly to the Gulf Fishermen's Association, the organization of Bayou Cadet commercial fishermen.

These same commercial fishermen reportedly signed and submitted a petition to the U.S. Corps of Engineers in Mobile favoring a Corps' plan on construction of a new anchorage basin in the bayou.

in the bayou.

The basin plans were discussed by the Corps at a public meeting in Bay St. Louis on May 18, where Charles Hill of Burk and Associates Engineers under contract to the Board of Supervisors, presented a different plan for the development.

Webre said last week he believes the fishermen's petition is "an obvious move to embarrass me."

Webre also said last week the commission has worked out a plan to cancel an agreement between the County and Neil Neilson, who holds a lease on the Bayou Cadet marina.

If approved by the Board of Supervisors, the port and harbor commission will pay Neilson $2,300 for actual expenses at the marina, and in return would terminate the lease.

Neilson Wednesday dropped charges of trespassing against two local fishermen which he had pressed earlier when they refused to pay docking fees

MMCC director warns

Sponge crab ban is one answer for empty traps

By DEE KACHLER

An ordinance to immediately halt the harvesting of sponge crabs from the Mississippi Sound went into effect Wednesday and it is described as "just one attempt by the Mississippi Marine Conservation Commission to alleviate the really terrible season Hancock County crab fishermen are having this year."

"The sponge crab ordinance was enacted for the protection of the Gulf Coast crab fisherman, in spite of some opinions to the contrary," insists Dr. Richard Leard, executive director of the commission.

Dr. Harriet Perry, Gulf Coast Research Laboratory biologist, said last week. "There is absolutely no scientific evidence showing a need for the sponge crab ban."

Leard said the ordinance was adopted for the "economic protection" of the Coast fisherman.

Sponge crabs are female Blue Crabs which carry their eggs exposed on their undersides. The eggs in a late state of development resemble sponges, with one female carrying millions of eggs during a peak spawning season in July and August.

Leard echoed the views of many Hancock County fishermen when he noted that in addition to the crab ordinance, "There is a definite need for regulation of out-of-state fishermen such as has been approved by the legislatures in Louisiana and Texas." "Both the shrimp and crab industries would be improved through such new regulations in Mississippi," Leard feels.

The regulations Leard referred to are 1) a higher licensing fee for out-of-state commercial crabbers and 2) stiffer fines imposed for those persons found robbing crab traps.

"Bills to increase the cost of the license have already been submitted for consideration to the Mississippi Legislature," Leard said.

"Coastal legislators have never proposed this type of action previously," he said, "possibly because not enough of their voters have let them know."

Leard said what is needed now is public support of this bill. He said crabbers from Bayou Cadet to Biloxi "should have no reason to oppose a law that would protect their futures."

Tommy Holzhauser, a Hancock County commercial fisherman who operates mainly out of Bayou Cadet, said "crabs have not been coming in too good so far this year," adding, "the ordinance banning a sponge crab should be a terrific asset to building up the crab industry."

Mrs. Mary Holzhauser, who purchases out-of-state licenses for her husband's commercial trawler, said it would only be fair for the out-of-state fishermen to meet with what Mississippi fishermen find when they have to buy licenses higher than $2.

Miss. now has a license fee of $2 for both commercial and sport crab trappers.

The Louisiana fee for crabbers is $50 for the first 100 traps, with the fee increasing after that depending on the number of traps.

"No more than 300 traps can be used in Louisiana regardless of the price you are willing to pay," Leard pointed out.

"In Mississippi after an out-of-state crabber buys a $2 license, he can have from one to 1000 traps," another MMCC spokesman said.

MMCC statistics show that Mississippi has not had an increase in its crab license fees since 1938.

"This is ridiculous, considering the increased catch a fisherman can now get in the Gulf," Leard believes.

"We have had crabbers come in our Biloxi office and tell us they wished the license would be $300, in order to control out-of-state competition," the commission director said.

"The license should be at least $50," said the owner of a Bay St. Louis Fish Market.

Lloyd Ladner, owner of Ladner's Seafood, described his crab catches as "being real terrible... we have such a great demand for the crabs and we just can't meet it."

"Our crabs have to come out of Lake Pontchartrain to satisfy our customers."

Under new conservation act

USDA slates public meeting, a first for Hancock County

By RICH ADAMS

The U.S. Department of Agriculture's Soil Conservation Service and the Hancock County Soil and Water Conservation District will co-sponsor a public meeting at 7 p.m. Thursday, July 20, at Hancock North Central High School.

"This is the first meeting of this kind for Hancock County and one of the first in the entire state to allow residents under a new federal law to express major and minor concerns about erosion, flood control, and other related matters a USDA official said.

"We want everyone to feel free to come in and tell us what they think about soil, water and related resources in this district," said Charles Curtis, district conservationist for SES.

"Our discussions include fish and wildlife, water quality, flood protection, erosion of croplands and roadsides. Last year Congress decided it was time that the public had a say in conservation programs and budgets, Curtis said, and as a result, the Resources Conservation Act was signed into law by President Carter.

This act directs the SCS to use scientific data and public opinion to appraise the nation's natural resources on private land; develop a five-year program, and to meet the concerns and evaluate progress each year, Curtis continued.

The Soil Conservation Service will take the data collected, study the problems and possible solutions, and set goals for the future for solving the problems, the official explained.

The Soil and Water Conservation District in Hancock County has been set up as a unit of state government, managed by locally elected or appointed commissioners, who channel SCS technical assistance to landowners.

P&Z trades ideas with Bay Council

By RICH ADAMS

The Bay St. Louis City Council and its Planning and Zoning Commission joined Thursday in an informal meeting designed to exchange ideas between the two groups. "It was the first meeting of its kind," said Mayor Larry Bennett who indicated he is pleased with the results.

The City Council will be meeting with various groups from time to time to exchange ideas, he added. Two terms expired on the Planning and Zoning Commission and Joe Marochino and Don Favre were approved by the Council to fill the posts left vacant by Louis Fernandez Jr. and Sheldon Seuzeneau.

The Council, in a recess meeting continued from its regular meeting Tuesday, discussed deciding of the old fire station on Ulman Avenue to the

Before DuPont opens

Pollution agency seeking Bay water quality norms

BY RICH ADAMS

The Mississippi Air and Water Pollution Control Commission is conducting a water quality survey in Bay St. Louis to establish an environmental standard for the Bay to be compared to later surveys when the DuPont plant is in full operation.

"We will collect a great amount of background data, both current and continuous, to be used in later comparisons," stated Charles Chisolm, commission executive director.

Similar data is being collected by the Gulf Coast Research Laboratory under a contract with DuPont to establish a baseline ecology of the Bay prior to the mid-1979 opening of the company's DeLisle pigment plant.

The Commission has obtained a permit from the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers to locate 23 floats to serve as navigational guides to aid in conducting the survey.

Other permits issued in May by the Corps of Engineers for work in navigable waters were to Diamondhead Corporation allowing maintenance dredging over a ten-year period; Mississippi Marine Conservation Commission for placement of markers to delineate shrimping boundaries in the Mississippi Sound, and to E.G. Kelly to extend an artificial canal off of Mulatto Bayou in Hancock County.

John F. Zecckine received a cease and desist order in connection with a fill operations at Edwards Bayou.

The Corps received applications for permits from Lawrence Noto of Bay St. Louis and Sally J. Strong of Lakeshore to develop a live oyster reef in the Mississippi Sound off Waveland-Clermont Harbor.

Signal study underway

Efforts by the Kiwanis of South Mississippi have already reached the state capital in Jackson.

Robert Moseley, State Highway representative, met with Kiwanis members Thursday to seek information on the traffic signal problems they seem to think are dangerous at the U.S. 90 intersections of Waveland Avenue and Highway 603.

Ernest L. Mitchell is Kiwanis chairman of this project and the group has been working on it since early May.

The interesting thing we noted at the meeting Thursday with Moseley was the fact that the accidents report to his office from the Mississippi Highway Safety Patrol showed only about a third of the figure Waveland Police carry on their records.

We gathered from the discussion that Mr. Moseley is very well versed on traffic control and knows what he is talking about.

On the other hand, we as well as anyone else who travels US-90 know the hazards at the intersections in question.

We also liked the statement by Waveland Police Investigator Robert Tartavouille, "If a change in traffic signals would save only one life in the span of two years, they would be worth more than the cost."

The Kiwanis are interested in the safety of the citizens of Waveland and Hancock County; they have the support of business as well as the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce, Bay St. Louis Rotary Club, Waveland officials and police and received unanimous support of the Bay St. Louis Jaycees Wednesday night.

We are hoping Mr. Moseley and the State Highway Department will do everything in their power to make the necessary changes.

He made a three day study of the area this week and will do more, he told Kiwanis members, if the studies indicate a need for signal improvements at the intersections.

With the growth of Buccaneer Park and all of Hancock County, we need to be prepared for the new influx.

The Kiwanis will admit they are not engineers, we are not either, but the Kiwanis along with us and many other residents feel some changes should be made.

The Kiwanis Club is a civic organization. They are living up to that fact by working for the safety of the people of our Community.

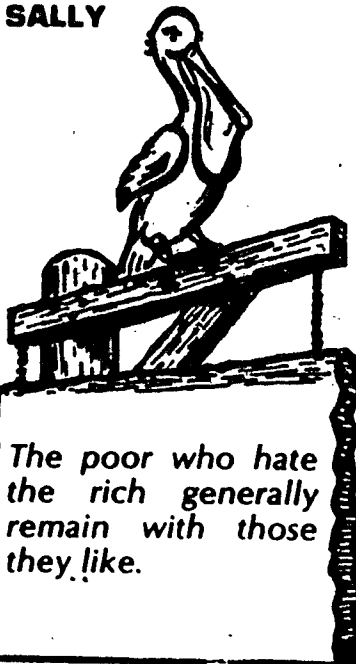

Mr. Moseley and the State Highway Department are also working for the safety of the citizens of the State.

Much can be done by interested people getting together and expressing opinions, discussing problems and deciding something should be done one way or another.

The Kiwanis seem to know the proper way to tackle a problem.

We appreciate this community involvement and support their efforts on this project.

No binding action on the matter was taken by the Council, Bennett reported.

Council renewed a contract between the City and the Coliseum Corporation granting the company a franchise to operate a cable television system in the city.

Earlier in the week the Hancock County Board of Supervisors approved a new contract with the company, replacing an earlier temporary agreement, for cable TV service in the county.

The new contract grants the company "continuous right to operate a community antenna and television system and to occupy streets and other public places in Hancock County."

Peter A. Morrill and N. R. Jacob, officials of the Coliseum Corporation, said that strand mapping of the proposed initial construction is 75 percent complete.

"From these maps we will be able to determine engineering needs and produce diagrams," the officials stated.

The new agreement meets all Federal Communication Commission requirements for such a contract, Jacob said.

A contract between the Coliseum Corporation and the City of Waveland is pending and will be finalized at a July 4 meeting of the City Council.

The Coliseum Corporation has relocated from Stennis Field to temporary quarters at 108 Leopold Street in Bay St. Louis.

"Resource concerns include planning for recreational development, protection of prime farmlands and scenic areas," Curtis stated. "We want your ideas on how we can improve the natural resources in this county, and where you would place priorities in planning and budgeting."

Curtis said further information is available at the Soil Conservation Service office, No. 7 Colonial Plaza, Bay St. Louis, or call 467-5108.

According to District One Justice Court Judge Lee Klein, Neilson said he had not been "coerced" into dropping the charges, but simply wanted to "get this behind me."

At a Port and Harbor Commission meeting earlier this month, Harold Strong Jr. and Billy Bernos, who had been arrested on June 1 when they refused to move their boats from the marina, agreed through Tommy Holzhauser, fishermen's association president, not to bring a "false arrest" suit against Neilson.

The trouble started when Neilson wanted to charge $50 a month for rental at the marina, and the fishermen refused to pay, alleging that they were not receiving lights and diesel fuel.

A tentative agreement was worked out on June 11 in which the fishermen would supply their own ice, but the rental situation has not yet been smoothed out.

Neilson now states that he wants out

Bay St. Louis apprentice jockey running first at Jefferson Downs

After 58 nights of the summer program at Jefferson Downs racetrack in Kenner, La., Bay St. Louis apprentice jockey Bruce Poyadou is ten victories ahead of his nearest competitor in the race for champion jockey.

Poyadou, who has guided 62 thoroughbreds to the winners circle, has led the field in number one placings since the 13th night of the season.

Nearing the end of his year as apprentice jockey, Poyadou, 18, made his racing debut with two wins at Oak Downs, Pearl River, La., astride mounts owned and trained by Edward "Bubby" Patton in August, 1976. Headlines in the Sea Coast Echo queried, "A new career?"

In high school Poyadou was active in 4-H, serving as a Hancock County representative to the State 4-H horse show in 1975. He graduated from Bay High in 1977.

"I hoped he would go on to college and be a veterinarian or something," commented Mrs. Manuel Poyadou, the racing star's mother. "His success has really surprised me."

Poyadou started racing thoroughbreds during the middle of the 1977 summer meeting at Jefferson Downs. In the winter season, he rode three weeks at the Fair Grounds before he was forced to sit out several weeks with a broken collarbone sustained in a tumble during workouts.

He returned for the final three weeks of the meeting and won seven races, including the final race of the 1977-78 meet aboard Fearless Morn.

The apprentice sensation rode four or five mounts before reaching the winner's circle astride Dobry Sweetie, when first coming to Jefferson Downs on his own.

Jockey agent Roland Daigrepoint took over his bookings and pointed the young rider in the right direction.

After thirteen nights of the 150 fights summer meeting, Poyadou had claimed 23 first place ribbons. Twice during that period he had ridden four winners on a nine-race card, going four-for-four.

Near the end of May, Poyadou sat out a seven-day suspension imposed by the Jefferson Downs stewards for careless riding, but still maintained a six-win edge over veteran Kenny Bourque, who has held the second slot most of the season.

Poyadou was aboard only three winners last week, but has built up a ten-win lead in top jockey ratings. Besides his 62 first place victories, he has placed 51 horses in the number two position and 35 in third.

of his agreement with the County.

"We feel at the commission that Neilson is entitled to some return on actual money he spent on fixing up the area and as soon as we can resolve this I'm sure we'll give Neilson his release and then try to work out a deal with the fishermen," said McDonald.

McDonald conceded that the major problem is the lack of space at the marina, and noted the only sign of relief is for the Corps of Engineers to build the proposed anchorage basin.

The commissioner stated, "The fishermen are fishing now and it's time to let the emotional situation die out." "Too much coverage of this matter by the press is keeping the fishermen emotionally charged," McDonald feels. Klein said Friday, "Just let it lay dormant and the situation will work itself out."

needs," Ladner complained.

Lake Pontchartrain crabs are also being sold at Waveland Seafood. Owner Richard Goetz said that he believes the ordinance will provide considerable help in easing the shortage, which he described as "real bad for us."

"No one can expect to increase the amount of crabs without protecting the female crabs carrying the eggs - it's just common sense," said a Pass Christian commercial seafood wholesaler-retailer.

John Kimball Jr., owner of Kimball's Seafood in Pass Christian said he favors the protective measures taken thru enactment of the ordinance as well as the economic benefits higher licensing could provide. He did, however, add reality to the immediate crab shortage in the area by saying "it will take a couple of years for the crabs to return to a productive state."

No previous "rigid provisions" to stop the harvesting of egg-laden female Blue Crabs from the Gulf were enacted permanently, said Dr. Leard.

"The sanctuary act we adopted in May, 1977, was an attempt to protect the sponge crabs from being victims of massive trawling," he continued, "but this act was impossible to enforce."

This "sanctuary act" of 1977 had provided for limiting the sponge catch from an area south of the Intracoastal Waterway from the Alabama-Mississippi line to the Gulfport-Ship Island channel.

"The ban of 1978 is in effect now because we have no way of telling how endangered the female crabs actually are," Leard said.

Dr. Perry, who testified at a court hearing on the need for the ban last week in Gulfport said, "The number of spawners is immaterial...The estuary will support a limited number of animals and only that number of animals will survive regardless of whether or not sponge crabs are taken by fishermen."

"Scientists will always have differing opinions," said Leard, who added that he respects her efforts.

"But we simply think we don't have sufficient evidence to support this existing data...It may be too late to replenish the crabs," Leard added.

"Dr. Perry may feel she has enough concise data to support her opinion that the sponge crabs are not in danger," he said, "we won't take that chance with the public's interest at stake...we are saying honestly - we don't know."

There are so many environmental conditions affecting Gulf crabs, Dr. Leard said, "that it is impossible to determine the number of factors related to them."

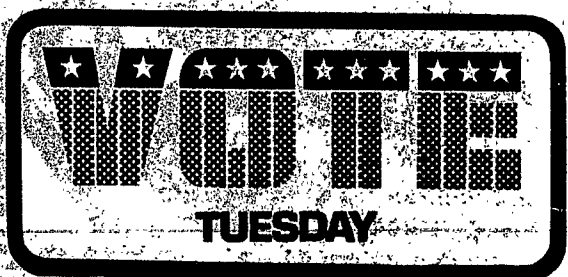

"We have no way to know how many crabs are really taken in traps without proper licensing policies.

"For the present $2 license, a Louisiana crabber as well as a Mississippi crabber can catch as many crabs in as many traps as they can provide," he noted.

"Without public support - the proposed licensing act along with much of the Coast's crabbing industry may not reappear, Leard feels."

Underside of sponge crab

Washington report

By Trent Lott

America's energy problems have been the direct outgrowth of mistaken policies adopted over the years by the public policy-makers in Washington, Congressman Trent Lott, R-Miss., said here Thursday night.

"There is an appalling ignorance in Washington about how the economy works, about what needs to be done to increase energy production and about how we should go about reducing our dependence on foreign oil," Lott told the annual convention of the Mississippi Petroleum Council.

"While the policy-makers love to blame the problems on the wastefulness of the American consumer, on the greediness of the oil companies and on the global ambitions of the Arab oil barons, the fact is that the problem lies in Washington," Lott said.

History has demonstrated that "bad ideas have enormous staying power" in the nation's capitol, he said.

The fifth District Gulf Coast congressman said Congress and presidential administrations have largely ignored the lessons of history by mandating use of coal, yielding to too many environmental demands and overly restricting nuclear power plants.

He said President Carter's energy plan was "a massive new system of government taxes, controls and restrictions on private industry."

"I have a nagging suspicion that energy policy will continue to be made in the political marketplace of Washington and not in the economic marketplace of America," Lott said.

Lott encouraged members of the petroleum council to help get the government out of the energy business and to redouble their efforts to inform the American people of the seriousness of the energy situation.

Alcohol and drug councils advocate rights of minors

The Mississippi Advisory Council on Drug Abuse and the Mississippi Advisory Council on Alcohol Abuse have called for the passage of legislation which will remove parental consent requirement for minors 15 years of age and over to receive drug abuse, alcohol abuse and mental health treatment by a licensed physician or psychologist.

The Drug and Alcohol Councils are statewide groups of lay and professional persons who serve in an advisory role to the Division of Alcohol and Drug Abuse of the Mississippi Department of Mental Health. The legislation endorsed by the Councils is similar to a present law which allows minors to receive treatment for venereal disease from physicians without the consent of a parent or guardian.

By waiving parental consent in obtaining treatment for drug, alcohol and mental health problems, it is felt that treatment will be more readily sought by a child who fears his parents' reaction to his problem. It will also free physicians and psychologists to treat such minors without the fear of legal reprisal. The recommendation of the Councils will be submitted to the Mississippi Board of Mental Health with the request that the Board submit it to the Mississippi Legislature.

The Ole Pastor Says

HELL: WHAT IS IT! In addressing ourselves to the whole spectrum of truth it sometimes involves unpleasant conversation.

Hell is, to say the least, an unpleasant subject. It is a more unpleasant place. The Bible tells of hell as the final abode of Satan and all his angels, with the wicked who die in unbelief.

Hell is spoken of in the Scriptures as a lake of fire (Rev. 20:15); a bottomless pit (Rev. 20:1); a horrible tempest (Ps. 11:16); a devouring fire (Isa. 33:14); a place of sorrows (Ps. 18:5); where all wail (Matt. 13:42); a place of weeping (Matt. 8:12); a furnace of fire (Matt. 13:41-42); and a place of torments (Luke 16:23).

It is referred to as a place of everlasting burnings (Isa. 33:14); a place of filthiness

(Rev. 22:10-11); where they curse God (Rev. 16:11); everlasting destruction (II Thess. 1:9); a place of outer darkness (Matt. 25:30); where they have no rest (Luke 16:27). A place where they pray in vain (Luke 16:27); a place where they can never repent (Matt. 12:32); a place where they scream for mercy (Luke 16:24); a place of everlasting punishment (Matt. 25:46); a place of blackness and darkness (Jude 13); a place prepared for the Devil and his angels (Matt. 25:41).

A place where its inhabitants cry out for one drop of water (Luke 16:24); a place where they will be tormented with brimstone and fire (Rev. 14:10); a place where their worm dieth not, and the fire is not quenched (Mark 9:48); and where its inmates do not want their loved ones to come (Luke 16:28).

"The way of life," God's Word cries out, "is above to the wise, that he may depart from hell beneath" (Prov. 15:24).

"The wages of sin is death; but the gift of God is ETERNAL LIFE THROUGH JESUS CHRIST our Lord" (Rom. 6:23).

AUBURN COACH
Auburn University is considering assistant coaches Pat Foster of Arkansas and Murray Arnold of Mississippi for head basketball coach, succeeding Paul Lambert.

The Anderson farm grows 24 varieties with carefully planned ripening dates so most of their production can be sold retail from an attractive roadside market they own and operate alongside U.S. Highway 45 adjacent to the orchards. The Andersons also grow Jubilee watermelons and delicious peach blossom honey which they sell "With 1.8 million independent cattlemen and an animal that takes 1½ - 2 years from conception to consumption, it's pretty hard to always meet demand with precisely the right amount of steaks, roasts and hamburgers," he said.

"Although prices to producers were good, and I say "were" because the President's announcement was already brought prices down to the producer, nobody's getting rich at the consumer's expense," he continued.

"It must be remembered that the cattle industry has been through some pretty rough years recently," he added.

"Profitability must return to producers, if there is to be a guarantee of larger supplies of beef in the years ahead."

ORDINANCE NO. 235
AN ORDINANCE OF THE CITY OF BAY ST. LOUIS, MISSISSIPPI, AMENDING THE CODE OF ORDINANCES OF SAID CITY TO PROVIDE FOR CERTAIN REGULATIONS RELATIVE TO CLEANING OF PRIVATE PROPERTY AS REQUIRED BY STATE LAW.

BE IT ORDAINED BY THE COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF BAY ST. LOUIS, MISSISSIPPI, AS FOLLOWS:

Section 1. That Section 11-6 of the Code of Ordinances of said city be amended to read as follows:

(a) The Council is hereby authorized and empowered, on its own motion, or upon the receipt of a petition requesting the municipal authority to so act signed by a majority of the residents residing upon any street or alley within three hundred (300) feet of any parcel of land alleged to be in need of cleaning to give notice to the property owner by U.S. Registered Mail, return receipt requested, receipted by addressee only, three (3) weeks before the date of a hearing, or by service of notice as provided in this section by a police officer at least three (3) weeks before the date of a hearing, or if the property owner be unknown or his address unknown, then by three (3) week's notice in a newspaper having a general circulation in the municipality, of a hearing to determine whether or not any parcel of land is in such a state of uncleanness as to be a menace to the public health and safety of the community. If, at such hearing, the governing authority shall, in its discretion, find that the state of uncleanness is such as to be a menace to the public health and safety of the community, the governing authority shall, if the owner do not do so himself, proceed to have the land cleaned by cutting weeds, filling cisterns, removing rubbish, dilapidated fences, outside toilets, dilapidated buildings and other debris, and draining cesspools, and standing water therefrom. Thereafter, the governing authority may, at its next regular meeting, by resolution adjudicate the actual cost of cleaning the said lot and the cost may become an assessment against the same. However, the action herein authorized shall not be undertaken against any one (1) parcel of land more than three (3) times in any one (1) calendar year, and the expense of cleaning of said lot shall not exceed an aggregate amount of one thousand dollars ($1,000.00) per year.

(b) The assessment above provided for shall be a lien against said property and may be enforced in the office of the circuit clerk of the county as other judgments are enforced, and the tax collector of the electrical inspector shall be held responsible for the electrical work only and upon 100 percent completion of the work he shall present a certificate of electrical inspection to the builder or owner.

Section 2. That Sec. 9-4 of said Code of Ordinances "Same - Duties of the board" be amended to add the following:

(c) Each person for firm desiring a license as an electrician or electrical contractor must file written application on the form prescribed by the Board. These forms are obtainable from the building inspection office, and when completed, must be filed with the electrical inspector to be delivered to the Board. A minimum of four (4) years of electrical work experience (schooling can be included in the four years) with written proof of this experience to accompany the applicant's form will be required. The Board will act on each application as soon as practical and notify each applicant as to whether or not he is eligible to take the written examination required by City Ordinance. The Board will arrange to give the said written examination as soon as practical after receiving qualified applicants. The applicants must be twenty-one years of age or over.

A fee of $25.00 must accompany each application to cover expense of the examination and this fee will be retained by the Board whether or not the applicant is successful in passing the examination.

Section 3. That Sec. 9-5 of said Code of Ordinances "Electrical inspector - Appointment; oath" be amended to add the following:

(a) The electrical inspector shall not be held responsible for any violations of the building or plumbing inspection of any job. The municipality shall, upon order of the Council, proceed to sell said land to satisfy said lien as now provided by law for the sale of lands for delinquent municipal taxes.

(3) The police officer's return on the notice may be in one (1) of the following forms:

1. Form of personal service:
"I have this day delivered the within notice personally, by delivering to the within named property owner, (here state name of party summoned), a true copy of this notice.
"This, the _____ day of _____, A.D., _____ (police officer)"

2. Form of notice where copy left a residence:
"I have this day delivered the within notice to _____, the within named property owner, by leaving a true copy of the same at his (or her) usual place of abode in my municipality, with _____, his (or her) (here insert wife, husband, son, daughter or some other person, as the case may be) - a member of his (or her) family above the age of sixteen (16) years, and willing to receive such copy, the said property owner is not found in my municipality.
"This, the _____ day of _____, A.D., _____ (police officer)"

3. Form of return when property owner not found within municipality and is a nonresident thereof.
"I have this day attempted to deliver the within notice to _____, the within named property owner, and after diligent search and inquiry, I failed to find the said property owner within my municipality, nor could I ascertain the location of any residence of the property owner within my municipality.
"This, the _____ day of _____, A.D., _____ (police officer)"

4. The first mode of notice should be made, if it can be; if not, then the second mode should be made, if it can be; and the return of the second mode of service must negate the officer's ability to make the first. If neither the first nor second mode of service can be made, then the third mode should be made, and the return thereof must negate the officer's ability to make both the first and second. In the event the third mode of service is made, then service shall also be made by publication as provided in subsection (1) of this section.

(d) The officer shall mark on all notices the date of the receipt thereof by him, and he shall return the same on or before the day of the hearing, with a written statement of his proceeding thereon. For failing to return the same, the officer shall forfeit to the party aggrieved the sum of twenty-five dollars ($25.00).

Section 2. That all Ordinances or parts of ordinances in conflict with this Ordinance are hereby repealed.

Section 3. That because it is mandatory that this Council observe and obey the laws of the State of Mississippi, this Ordinance shall become effective immediately.

After being reduced to writing, the foregoing ordinance was read and considered, section by section and then as a whole, at a public meeting of the Council of the City of Bay St. Louis, Mississippi, whereupon Councilman Farve moved its adoption and after second by Councilman Benvenutti the following roll call vote was had:

WAVELAND LITTLE LEAGUE

Lusich's Tiger defense shut down to hold Lil Ray's Red Sox to two runs after the first inning in Waveland Little League Baseball action Thursday at Elwood Park. The Tigers won, 7-6. The game got underway late due to a late afternoon shower.

STANDINGS As of June 22

	W	L
Fahey's Astros	11	5
Lusich Tigers	10	5
Johnson Pirates	9	7
Lil Ray Red Sox	8	8
Thomas' Troops	2	15

ENTANGLED - The Tiger runner and Red Sox first baseman tangle up as the umpire calls safe. The runner over ran first then scrambled back to base as the baseman lunged for the ball.

The Red Sox revved up for four runs off a floundering Tiger defense in the first period.

Pitcher John Henry doubled to score Dean DiSalvo, then came home on a double by Byron Thomas. A passed ball at first allowed Thomas to score, for three of the Red Sox, first period runs.

For the Tigers, Mike Haverty was the only runner to score as the first inning ended.

In the top of the second, the Sox were held to one run as Rodney Poyadou struck out two in a row and another batter flied out.

The bottom of the Tiger batting order filled the bases in their turn at bat. Kevin Kendrick was walked in while Kevin Maurigi slid home on a passed ball at the plate. Adam LeMay doubled to score another runner, then Haverty doubled and sent in LeMay, tying up the ballgame at 5-all. In the nightcap, Charles Johnson's Pirates edged out Fahey's Astros, 8-6.

PITCHER COVERS HOME - Red Sox pitcher John Henry covers home as Tiger Kevin Maurigi slides in on a passed ball at the plate. The Tigers downed the Sox in Thursday's Little League at Waveland.

Six run Sixth sends Waveland out front

Waveland tallied six runs in an explosive sixth inning to power past Long Beach, 9-4, in an American Legion contest Wednesday at Tiger Field.

Willie Braddy touched off the charge with his sixth home run in four games.

Frank Henry claimed the pitching victory, throwing only five hits in nine innings. He struck out eight and walked three.

The Waveland Legion took 16 hits from starting pitcher Mike Ross who recorded the loss and reliever Wayne Ulrich.

Trailing by two going into the bottom of the sixth, Waveland finished up with one run in the eighth to cap off the win.

Kelth Courtney led hitting for the winners, going four-for-five with two RBIs. Courtney also sneaked one stolen base. Freddy Keel pounded out three hits in five at-bats, claiming one triple and two RBIs.

Braddy went two-for-five, while Cary Meitzler and Kelly Geroux were two-for-four. Robbie Cox was one-for-four and knocked in one runner. Kerry Corr and Henry got into the act with one hit apiece. Waveland is now 3-4 in district action.

GETTING READY - Sammy Wayman steps to the plate for the Tigers. In preparation, he gives a few practice swings in Thursday's game. (Staff photo - Sharon Walls)
